Description of the Program

The Department of Recreation, Park and Tourism Administration in the College of Education and Human Services, Western Illinois University, offers progressive course work and experiences leading to the Master of Science degree. The graduate program is offered on the Macomb and Quad Cities campuses and the Graduate Coordinator will serve students on both campuses.

This graduate degree program introduces students to theoretical and practical competencies in the following areas of study pertinent to leisure industries:

- leisure services administration,
- campus recreation,
- community recreation,
- outdoor recreation and leadership,
- natural and human dimensions of resource management,
- park planning and management,
- programming for leisure services,
- tourism, hospitality, and event management,
- recreation therapy and inclusion,
- youth services programming,
- non-profit organization and programming.

The purpose of the graduate program is to advance academic and professional competency in critical and integrative thinking, problem-solving, and social responsibility essential to the provision of leisure services through an examination of the literature, research, focused coursework, and participation in experiential programs and pre-professional field experiences. This purpose is accomplished through the following cooperative endeavors:

- A. Enhancing students' understandings of the role and significance leisure, recreation and hospitality play in the cultural life of the community, and their direct contributions to human development, economies, and the quality of life for all.
- B. Helping students develop an understanding and appreciation of the purpose and function of research as it relates to the planning, programming, administration, and evaluating of leisure services.

- C. Encouraging students to develop the higher level academic and professional skills required to develop, deliver, and evaluate leisure services efficiently and effectively.
- D. Assisting students to become more knowledgeable, responsible, proficient, and effective practitioners.

Master of Science in Recreation, Park and Tourism Administration

Learning Outcomes

In order to assess the MS in Recreation, Park and Tourism Administration degree program, competencies gained from five core courses will be assessed. In addition, students' mastery of learning outcomes will be demonstrated through the defense of their exit option. Students will be informed of the learning outcomes at the annual RPTA Graduate Student Orientation and when they meet with the RPTA Graduate Coordinator (GC) for initial advising.

1. The student will be able to interpret basic descriptive and inferential statistics commonly used by leisure service organizations.
2. The student will be able to critique research/evaluation practices commonly used by leisure service organizations and scholars.
3. The student will be able to apply philosophical concepts/theories commonly used as frameworks in leisure research.
4. The student will demonstrate mastery of software used to construct budgets and fiscal documentation prevalently used in program, departmental and agency budgets.
5. The student will demonstrate mastery of administrative principles common in leisure service organizations.
6. The student will demonstrate professional competency, presentation creation skills, and written and oral communication skills through the public presentation of their exit option experience.

Program of Study

The program of graduate study in the Department of Recreation, Park and Tourism Administration is designed to facilitate earning an advanced degree in the administration and the delivery of services in leisure agencies.

The program is customizable to meet individual student's needs; however, students do tend to select courses based on common professional goals. For this reason, the Department has created lists of suggested courses for students to select from based on their professional goals. As there are often career opportunities in these fields about which students may be unaware, students are strongly encouraged to work closely with their graduate committee chair to determine the proper courses to achieve their professional goals.

Independent Study/Research

When special needs exist for which regular course work is unavailable, the independent study course, RPTA 490(G): Independent Study (1-3, repeatable to 8) can be considered. RPTA 590: Research in Leisure Services (1-3, repeatable to 8) may only be used for elective study related to the thesis or graduate research project. Independent study projects may be requested by the student or suggested by a member of the graduate faculty. Students interested in a special focus should contact the Chair of their Graduate Committee or the Graduate Coordinator early in the course of study. All independent study course proposals must be approved and reflected on the Graduate Degree Plan.

Electives in other Departments

Students should explore offerings in other departments to see if there are courses available that would further their knowledge. With the permission of their graduate committee, students may select directed electives from outside the department that provide targeted concepts and skill sets. Students may also design courses to learn more about areas of interest to them using independent study classes RPTA 490G or RPTA 590.

Transferring Graduate Credit

If students believe that previous graduate course work may be equivalent to and satisfies requirements for a core RPTA graduate course, they should discuss making a petition for transfer credit with the GC during preliminary advisement. All petitions for transfer credit must be discussed with a student's GCC, and must include official transcripts identifying the transfer courses and, when possible, a course syllabus to be reviewed by the Graduate Committee. The student is responsible for providing copies of syllabi for all petitioned courses to the GCC and GC. No course credit may be transferred unless a minimum grade of "B" was received for that course. Upon approval the request must be signed by the GCC and GC, who will then forward it to the School of Graduate Studies. A maximum of nine (9) semester hours of graduate credit from an accredited institution may be considered for transfer.

Exit Option Requirements (6 sh)

The final six hours of the program consist of the exit option requirement which may take the form of the Thesis, Graduate Research Project, or Professional Internship.

RPTA 601: Thesis (6)

RPTA 602: Graduate Research Project (6)

RPTA 603: Professional Internship (6)

Each of the available options is designed to consolidate, enhance, and advance academic elements of the curriculum through direct application of the knowledge and skill sets acquired throughout the course of study. Three options are made available so that students may select the experience that best meets their professional and academic goals.

RPTA 601 requires students to do guided research toward the completion of a thesis; more details about thesis requirements can be found on the School of Graduate Studies website. RPTA 602 is typically taken by students who are currently employed and want to complete a graduate research project associated with their employment. RPTA 603 is a professional internship that must be approved by the students' graduate committee. The internship must be 480 hours completed with an approved agency.

Upon completion of their exit options, students will be expected to publically present a defense of the competencies gained throughout the exit option process. They are expected to prepare and deliver a 25-30 minute presentation, and then to respond to questions from the audience and their committee members.

Students will be assessed on:

- a. Professional Presentation Delivery
- b. Professional Presentation Design
- c. Knowledge of Administrative Principles
- d. Mastery of Exit Option Requirements
- e. Oral Communication Skills
- f. Overall Presentation Effectiveness

Graduate Assistantships

Students who receive assistantships should be aware of the policies and regulations related to them. Students who are awarded assistantships will need to attend required trainings before semesters begin, and are responsible for submitting monthly time cards according to university guidelines. Students on assistantship should be aware that there can be tax and payroll issues depending on the number of credit hours they complete in a calendar year. For more information on this, please visit with University Payroll in Sherman Hall (309.298.1867)

Initial Advisement

Once a student is admitted to the program, the RPTA Graduate Coordinator (GC) will recommend a graduate faculty member for the student to ask to serve as their Graduate Committee Chair (GCC). Students may elect to choose another graduate faculty member as their chair once the semester begins. The GC will help students to set up their first semester of classes. Students will schedule an appointment or email with the GC before the semester begins for preliminary advisement and then check in with their GCC during the first week of classes. Students should familiarize themselves with all departmental faculty by scheduling appointments with them early in their first semester and attending departmental functions and socials held for that purpose. These interactions facilitate introductions and provide opportunities to contact faculty other than the GC and GCC concerning areas of research and publication, and to serve on their graduate committee.

Forming a Graduate Committee

Students are responsible for forming their Graduate Committee during their first semester of classes. The advisory committee consists of three (3) members of the Graduate Faculty of which one, from the Department of Recreation, Park and Tourism Administration, serves as the Graduate Committee Chair (GCC). The GCC must have full membership in the Graduate Faculty. If students would like to have someone who is not a Graduate Faculty member serve on their committee, there is an appeal process outlined by the Graduate School.

The Graduate Committee (1) provides advice, guidance, and permission regarding course work and related concerns, (2) supervises students as they develop their degree plan, and (3) acts as the primary/academic supervisor of students required culminating experience.

Members of students' graduate committee should be selected based on their expertise, research, publication, and professional networks. The selection of the Graduate Committee Chair (GCC) is important because it is their responsibility to serve as the main resource for the students. Once students have obtained agreement of faculty to serve on their committee, students should have them sign the Graduate Committee Form (see Appendix) and submit a copy to their GCC. Students are also responsible for submitting a copy to the administrative assistant in the main office or the GC who will place it in their graduate file folder.

Graduate Studies Tasks & Timeline

Students must schedule and hold a committee meeting during the first semester they are admitted to the department.

For students beginning Fall Semester, the Graduate Committee Selection Form is due to the GC by November 1. It is the student's responsibility to make sure a copy of the form is in their file. For students beginning Fall Semester, the Graduate Committee must meet by the end of the first semester to meet the March deadline for completion of the graduate degree plan.

For students beginning Spring Semester, the Graduate Committee Selection Form is by March 1. For students beginning Spring Semester, the Graduate Committee must meet by the end of the first semester to meet the October deadline for completion of the graduate degree plan.

Additional meetings should be scheduled, as often as needed, so students receive timely and appropriate advice, guidance and permissions, and submit necessary forms to the School of Graduate Studies, GCC, GC and RPTA main office. Additionally, meetings are important for the discussion, determination, timeline, and approval for the culminating experience. Initiating and scheduling graduate committee meetings are the student's responsibility.

Task	Fall semester start	Spring semester start
Form Committee	By October 1	By March 1
Submit Graduate Committee Selection Form to GCC & GC	By October 1	By March 1

Submit Degree Plan to GCC & GC	By March 1	By October 1
Submit Approved Degree Plan to Graduate School	Degree Plans should be submitted once the student has completed 21 sh.	Degree Plans should be submitted once the student has completed 21 sh.
Application for Graduation to Graduate School	Applications for graduation should be submitted the first month of last semester of classes	Applications for graduation should be submitted the first month of last semester of classes

The Graduate Degree Plan

After at least nine (9) semester hours of graduate work have been successfully completed and before the completion of 15 semester hours of graduate course work, the student must submit a graduate degree plan to their graduate committee. After a student has completed 21 hours they must apply for candidacy by submitting their Graduate Degree Plan to the School of Graduate Studies and the GC.

The degree plan form is available at www.wiu.edu/grad -- under current students/forms. The degree plan must be typed, accurate, and include all information requested. List courses sequentially according to course prefix and course number, not by semester taken.

For example:

Correct way

KIN 545

RPTA 511

RPTA 522

Incorrect way

RPTA 522

RPTA 511

KIN 545

Students will develop their degree plan under the supervision their Graduate Committee Chair (GCC) in consultation with their committee members. Students/committees usually take several meetings to develop the formal plan. Upon obtaining committee permission and filling out the appropriate form, the student will submit the written degree plan to the Graduate Committee Chair. The GCC will submit it to the GC who will review and sign it. The GC will make a copy of the completed form, place a copy in the student's graduate file, and place the original in the students' mailbox. It is the student's responsibility to make sure the signed graduate degree plan is submitted to the School of Graduate Studies Office.

For students who begin in the fall semester, the graduate degree plan is typically submitted to the Graduate School prior to March 1. Students beginning spring semester typically submit their degree plans to the Graduate School by October 1. Timely submission of the degree plan facilitates movement through graduate school protocols for graduation.

The degree plan prescribes the course work and culmination option students must complete to receive the master's degree. Any modification of the degree plan, after it has been submitted and filed with the School of Graduate Studies, requires formal petitioning that includes the consent and approval of the Graduate Committee. The petition form is available on the School of Graduate Studies' website.

Only upon satisfactory completion of all academic course work and the approved culminating experience, as they appear on the approved Graduate Degree Plan, will the degree, Master of Science in Recreation, Park and Tourism Administration, be awarded.

Getting the most out of a master's degree experience

Graduate students on both campuses are encouraged to take advantage of the numerous opportunities present in the department, community, and professional associations that facilitate success in a leisure service agency. Each campus offers different opportunities for involvement, and students may reach out to professors on either campus if there are activities and/or research that interests them.

Students are strongly encouraged to become involved in scholarly and professional networks by attending, participating, or presenting sessions at academic and professional conferences, workshops, and conventions. Examples of state, regional, and national organizations offering such opportunities include, but are not limited to the following: the Illinois Parks and Recreation Association, the National Recreation and Park Association, American Therapeutic Recreation Association, International Council on Hotel, Restaurant & Institutional Education, Illinois Recreation Therapy Association, Association of Interpretive Naturalists, Midwest Symposium on Therapeutic Recreation, the Association for Experiential Education, and the Wilderness Education Association.
