

Integrated Baccalaureate Degree in Philosophy (BA) and Master of Liberal Arts and Sciences (MLAS)

The Integrated Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy and Master of Liberal Arts and Sciences Program at Western Illinois University provides an opportunity for outstanding undergraduate philosophy majors to complete both the BA in Philosophy and Master of Liberal Arts and Sciences (MLAS) degrees in five years. This program gives philosophy majors with a multidisciplinary orientation an opportunity to explore selected philosophical topics more thoroughly and to develop an appreciation and understanding of the methodologies of a variety of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences and mathematics as they pursue graduate-level study.

Admission Requirements

Undergraduate philosophy students may apply for admission into the Integrated Baccalaureate and Master's Degree Program after completing 60 SH of undergraduate coursework. Application for admission to the integrated BA philosophy/MLAS degree program requires a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or higher as well as a major GPA of at least 3.25.

To apply to the integrated program, students are to submit the following documents to the School of Graduate Studies:

- A School of Graduate Studies application form (available at wiu.edu/grad)
- Official transcripts from each college or university previously attended
- A one- to two-page personal statement that explains their larger personal career goals, and how the MLAS degree will further those objectives
- An academic paper of at least 5-10 pages that demonstrates an ability to develop a thesis and make a sustained, well-researched argument
- Three confidential letters of recommendation

Benefits of an Integrated Degree

- Start graduate courses earlier – Upon acceptance, integrated degree students may take up to three graduate courses that can count toward both undergraduate and MLAS degrees (called “bridge” courses). As a result, integrated degree students get a jump start on their graduate degree and eventual career.
- Save money – Integrated degree students have 9 SH fewer of tuition/fee expenses, and they can lock in the tuition rate in the Graduate Catalog from when they first continually enroll at WIU.

- Acquire a unique credential – Integrated degree students acquire concrete, practical language skills while developing higher-order analytical skills as they work across disciplines. This broad range of skills and flexibility is in demand by employers.

Integrated Degree Requirements

Students in the BA Philosophy/MLAS integrated program may use up to 9 SH of the following bridge courses in both the BA Philosophy and the MLAS degrees:

PHIL 400G/B Social and Political Philosophy (3 SH)
PHIL 405G/B (cross-listed with REL 405G)

Philosophy of Religion (3 SH)

PHIL 415G/B Philosophy of Science (3 SH)

PHIL 420G/B Philosophy of Law (3 SH)

PHIL 425G/B Philosophy of Mind (3 SH)

PHIL 440G/B Legal Reasoning (3 SH)

If taken after the undergraduate degree has been completed, these courses should not be taken with the “B” designator.

Undergraduate Degree Requirements– Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy

The minimum semester hour requirement for the baccalaureate degree is 120 SH. All students seeking the integrated BA Philosophy/MLAS degree must fulfill the requirements for the BA in Philosophy (for a complete explanation of requirements, please refer to the Undergraduate Catalog):

- I. University General Education and College of Arts and Sciences Curriculum Requirements (60 SH)
- II. Core Courses: PHIL 140, 300, 310, 312† (10 SH)

Distinctive Features

The BA Philosophy/MLAS integrated program has many distinctive features and opportunities for its students:

- Personalized Education – The Philosophy faculty’s strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and student learning is evidenced by its small class sizes, which make it possible for students to participate actively in class discussions, and for faculty to get to know students on an individual basis. Faculty members are accessible to students, and individualized advising and career counseling are provided by the department.

- Research and Scholarly Activities – There are many activities in which students in the MLAS program can participate: annual departmental conferences; WIU Graduate Research Conference; departmental, college, and University speaker events; professionalization workshops; and graduate organizations and clubs. LAS students are active in the LAS Graduate Student Organization (LASGO) in Macomb and the LAS Student Organization (LASSO) in the Quad Cities. The Student Philosophical Association (SPA) meets biweekly throughout the academic year in Macomb.
- Flexible Program Structure – For their exit option, students can write a thesis, develop an applied project or pursue an internship. Through a close mentoring relationship with a faculty director, individuals choose and tailor their exit options to meet their personal or professional goals, including preparation for further graduate work, a new career or advancement within a current career.

Career Opportunities

Extensive study in philosophy can provide an excellent background for a variety of careers. Our graduates work in many fields, including business, government, academia and technical writing. Many of our students go on to do further graduate work in philosophy, and others seek professional degrees in law, the ministry, business and public administration, counseling and other areas.

“The Liberal Arts and Sciences integrated program has provided me with many opportunities. I enjoyed taking graduate courses as an undergraduate because the courses were challenging and rewarding. Also, the dual credits and time length for the program were appealing because it allowed me to not only challenge myself as a student but also consider my financial needs. Overall, this program has allowed me to customize my degree without financially straining myself.”

–Ashley Clinton, BLAS/MLAS integrated degree student
