Get to know your faculty
Take time to get to know your faculty. They can be a great resource. Your class instructors can assist with subject materials, test preparation, and possible tutors who can help you with individual classes.

Academic Advisors and Resident Assistants (if you are living in the residence halls) are also great resources.

Academic Assistance Centers
Many academic departments have tutorial centers, achievement centers, or skill and performance laboratories, staffed to assist you in addition to the times your instructors are available in their offices. Since hours of operation may vary, you will need to contact each department for additional information and specific times.
