

Excellence in Enhancing Learning with Technology

General

The Provost's Awards for Academic Excellence were created to exemplify where someone has truly excelled in teaching with technology. Exhibits should demonstrate how the applicant has gone above what is expected.

Teaching Philosophy

One page outside the narrative describing your teaching philosophy. This should be followed by the contributions made in delivering on this philosophy.
(NOTE: This does not count toward your page limit.)

Narrative

(It is not required to address each of the elements outlined below.)

- No more than five (5) pages, be sure to state the impact on university, students and community
- Draws, incorporates, and discusses current and emerging technologies in course discussion, material presentation, and assessment
- Participation in disseminating expertise via workshops, presentations, etc.
- Demonstrated excellence in raising student awareness, understanding, and deployment of technology
- Demonstrate excellence in enhancing student learning outcomes as a result of deploying technology
- Demonstrate excellence in creating and teaching in an online learning environment
- Research contributing to enhanced effectiveness of technology related teaching
- Participation in other activities that may not have been addressed by the guidelines stated above
- For all activities, please specify whether the activity was course related, or if it was a compensated activity (either stipend, or release time). The committee will decide how compensated and uncompensated items compare.

Supporting Documents

- Include a syllabus for one course. (NOTE: This does not count toward your page limit.)
- Ten (10) pages of supporting documentation. Whenever applicable, such as in the case of performing/creative works, faculty may submit multimedia as part of their supporting documentation. For each individual multimedia element submitted, the number of pages of supporting documentation should be reduced by the number of items represented. Submissions should not contain multipage works, such as journal articles or books.
- Up to three (3) letters of support from deans, chairs, peers or students – letters of support from these individuals do not count towards your 10 page limit of supporting documentation. Each letter of support should not exceed two (2) pages.

Appendix

Application includes stipulated appendix furnishing an outline of your application activities. Use major headings for each category followed by a summary of the activity and the associated dates in reverse chronological order. List course numbers, title, credit hours and any characteristics of the course that may be relevant including: new preparation, graduate-level course, required, elective, etc.
