

Preschool News

WIU Infant and Preschool Center
November 4th, 2022

We Love Nature!

This week we were lucky enough to have such perfectly beautiful fall weather! We've been spending as much time as possible outdoors while it is still so nice out, before the weather changes for good and it becomes much cooler. During story time we have been reading books about the autumn season. Out on the playground we have noticed that our trees are dropping their leaves to the ground. It is especially fun to run around as a big wind comes and swoops lots of leaves down on top of us! We've been enjoying the great outdoors so much lately, that we even decided to try something brand new...having rest time outside under the trees! Watching the leaves rustle in the wind was rather peaceful!

Ms. Kelly, Ms. Shirley, & Ms. Sherri

"Camping out" for rest time.

Our beautiful fall trees.

Illinois Early Learning & Development Standards

Sorting wildlife cards.

Science: Observe, investigate, describe, and categorize living things.

Drawing shapes on the white board.

Math: Recognize and name common two- and three-dimensional shapes and describe some of their attributes (e.g., number of sides, straight or curved lines).

Outdoor rest time.

Physical Development and Health: Apply decision-making skills related to the protection and promotion of individual health.

Singing and dancing with the guitar.

The Arts: Movement and Dance: Build awareness of, explore, and participate in dance and creative movement activities.

