Additional information is needed to regain eligibility for federal financial aid program(s) including your eligibility for a Parent PLUS loan. Return this form with the information required below.

The U.S. Department of Education has identified that you have one or more defaulted student loans in an active bankruptcy status. Before we can certify your application for a Parent PLUS loan, you must provide the Financial Aid Office the following:

- Submit current documentation from the loan holder(s) of the debt stating the specific debt is dischargeable in bankruptcy.
- Submit this signed certification form.

You may view your federal loan history, including the defaulted loans with an active bankruptcy status, using the National Student Loan Data System \(NSLDS\). Contact the Financial Aid Office with any questions.

Statement of Certification:

I have attached the documentation requested above and I certify that the information given to document this status is true and complete.
